

PHONE STRIKERS GET INCREASE AND RETURN TO WORK

Higher Wages for Bell Operators to Be Determined on Period of Service With Maximum at $16 a Week.

RIGHT OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING GRANTED

Hale Says All Employees Except Four Will Be Reinstated—Arcade Building Dispute Is Still Unsettled.

Striking employees of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., who have been out since June 25, returned to work this morning, following a settlement of their grievances which was agreed upon between officials of the company and a committee representing the employees, the action being ratified at a meeting of the strikers yesterday afternoon, by a vote of 101 to 26.

The settlement formed a basis for the ending of the strike were viewed by the employees as a compromise. The original demands of the union included a closed shop and the right of collective bargaining, a minimum of $10 a week for student operators, and a minimum of $14 a week for those with nine months' experience, with figures increasing up to $20 a week for those in service three years.

The company, according to O. E. Jennings, organizer for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, who conducted the strike, agreed to recognize the right of the employees to belong to a union and their preference for collective bargaining through chosen representatives.

Company's View of Settlement. Officials of the company, when asked for their interpretation of that phase of the settlement, said that the members of the union affiliated with the electrical workers would be recognized as constituting approximately one-tenth of the company's employees. The company said that bargaining with them would be considered on that basis. While recognizing the right of the employees to belong to a union, it was said, the company would not consider demands of the union as representing the wishes of the entire working force.

After the vote had been announced at Liberty Hall, 3513 Franklin avenue, yesterday afternoon, where the strikers met, the floor was cleared and the electrical workers and switchboard operators had an informal dance.

Maurice J. Cassidy, secretary of the Building Trades Council, said that the ending of the telephone strike did not produce an understanding regarding the employment of union men on the Arcade Building at Eighth and Olive streets, and that the 250 union men in the building, who quit work July 13 in sympathy with the electrical workers, would not resume work until that union and the Bell company had reached an agreement. He said that a meeting was scheduled to take place in Manager Hale's office today between officials of the company and a committee of the electrical workers, at which working conditions would be discussed.

Security Period Reduced. J. J. Barrett, Commissioner of Conciliation of the Department of Labor, arranged a conference at 11 a. m. yesterday between officials of the company and a committee representing the employees. Jennings and Miss May Matthews, officers of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, were present and arrangements were made for the employees to return.

The basis of settlement provided that the striking employees were to return to work, with the exception of four who are alleged to have committed overt acts, and whose cases are now awaiting action by the courts.

A readjustment of the wage scale for operators provided that girls who formerly received a minimum of $10 a week during the first three years of service shall be paid $11. The period of seniority was reduced from seven years to four years and the maximum wage is to be $16 instead of $14. The revised wage scale for men employees has not been determined finally.

Hale Makes Statement. General Manager Hale of the Bell Co., following the settlement of the strike, issued this statement: "The basis of settlement provides that the striking employees will return to work, with the exception of four who have committed overt acts, and whose cases are now awaiting final action by the courts. All other employees, upon application, will be returned to work at the wage rate which their length of service entitles them at the time of their return."

Employees whose positions have been filled since the beginning of the strike are to be returned to other positions which are available. "As fast as changes and developments in the organization make it possible, these employees will be restored to positions carrying the same hours of work as they held previous to leaving the employ of the company."

Falls Dead in Dinner Line. William Porter, 60 years old, fell dead at the County Home at Belleville, Ill., while standing in line to go to dinner with other residents. A son, Fred C. Porter of Havana, Ill., took charge of the body.

U. R. Men Enjoy Playing "Spotting the Spotter"

Conductors Attend Hearing in Relays for First Glimpses of the Street Car Auditors.

"Spotting the spotters" just now is the paramount event engaging the attention of United Railways conductors, who were again out in force to attend the arbitration hearing yesterday at the city hall, where 21 of their fellow union members are being tried for alleged misappropriation of fares.

The hearing will be resumed this afternoon, and unless all indications fail, the tables again will be turned on the spotters by another large audience of conductors, who will ogle them, smirk at them and leer at them and wish them sundry good things.

Spotting the spotters has evidently disturbed the equanimity of Director of Public Safety McKelvey, for he announced yesterday that he would not permit future hearings in the city hall unless disturbances were stopped.

Accused Men Denies Charge. The case under consideration is that of Sayle E. Smith, a conductor on the Manchester line, who was discharged by the company July 17, charged with a charge of pocketing fares that should have gone into the fare boxes. Most of the evidence against Smith was given by "car auditors" or spotters—men employed to ride the cars and watch for "irregularities," chiefly in the handling of fares. Smith denied the charges and demanded a hearing, which was arranged by the car men's union.

Frank P. O'Shea, vice president of the International Car Men's Union, forced the issue and compelled the company to produce its witnesses. The company at first objected to disclosing the identity of its spotters, on the ground that said spotters would be useless to the company in future, once their identity became known to the conductors. O'Shea was firm, and the conductors supported his contention, clamoring for a "look at the birds," meaning the spotters.

Jeered All Way Home. To make the case against the discharged men stand and to prevent a clash with the union, the company agreed to produce the witnesses. Then the word went around that the spotters were to come into the open. It was the first time in the history of the carmen's union, O'Shea said, that a traction company entered such an agreement, and thus the men were guaranteed justice in an open hearing.

In his defense Conductor Smith introduced his honorable discharge from the army and a citation signed by Gen. Pershing crediting him with gallantry in action near Grand Pre, France. Smith served in the 303d Signal Battalion, 78th Division. He returned to the United States in 1914 and was employed by the United Railways Company last March.

In response to a question by O'Shea, Smith said he never had occasion to put money received from passengers in his pockets. Later, when asked what he did with money received from passengers when his pockets were full, he replied that he put it in his pocket.

Smith said that the reports made by the car auditors in his case were made at a time when his car was empty. He expressed doubt as to whether the "spotters" could clearly observe everything that transpired at the cash box.

Explains Difference in Fares. In explaining how the substitute conductor, put on his particular run, might collect from $1 to $3 more than he did, Smith said that the substitute would be unfamiliar with the strike and would not know how to expect the crowds. This would delay the car and result in more passengers boarding it.

Smith said that he worked as a stock clerk and as an electrician at his home in Fairfield, Ill., and in Texas before being employed by the United Railways Co. in 1917. He said he was gassed while in action overseas. He resides at 2112 Forest avenue.

St. Louis, who have been on strike since Aug. 2, will return to work as a result of the decision announced at Decatur. They are employed in the Washburn yards and in the Washburn roundhouses at Vandeventer avenue and Washburn tracks and at Brooklyn, Ill.

At the time the strike was called R. G. McGill, 4119 Peck street, assistant chairman of the Washburn shopmen, said the strike had been called to affect the entire Washburn system, involving from 3000 to 4000 shopmen.

The only other group of St. Louis shopmen to walkout were about 400 Rock Island shopmen, who also struck Aug. 2.

Additional Shopmen Back at Work; Chicago Men Still Out. Rapid improvement in the freight situation in St. Louis and trade territory following the removal of embargoes established because of the strike of railroad shopmen, was predicted today by Traffic Commissioner Coyle of the Chamber of Commerce.

As the shopmen return to work the embargo rapidly is lifting the embargo, the Missouri Pacific and Frisco already having announced that they are prepared to receive freight as usual.

Officers of the Chicago District Council received word today from Director Hines that the Government would not negotiate any settlement with the local body. Representatives of striking shopmen from every section of the country arrived here today to attend the mass meeting to be held tomorrow at which it will be decided what action will be taken.

NEGRO BUSINESS LEAGUE OPENS CONVENTION HERE

500 Delegates Attend Initial Session of National Organization at Coliseum.

The National Negro Business League, organized in 1900 by Booker T. Washington to stimulate interest in business among negroes, opened its twelfth annual session this morning in the Coliseum with a short business meeting, at which organizational committees were chosen. The formal opening will be this evening. Lieutenant-Governor Crossley is scheduled to deliver the address of welcome, and Mayor Kiel and others will speak. The principal address being by J. C. Napier, formerly Register of the Treasury of the United States, and now cashier of a negro savings bank in Nashville, Tenn.

Included in the organization are the following national negro organizations: Bankers' Association, Insurance Association, Retail Merchants' Association, Farmers' Association, Bar Association and Medical Association. About 500 delegates attended the forenoon session.

In opening the morning session, at which there were delegates from 25 states, Prof. Aaron E. Malone, president of the St. Louis Negro Business League, said that the negro must not wait for other races to help him, but must do for themselves. He talked on "Managing a Drug Store."

Napier said today that his talk this evening would be educational to those who were not familiar with the advancement of negroes since emancipation, and would indicate to young negroes the possibilities open to them in business.

Owen 22,000,000 Acres of Land. He said, "that since emancipation negroes have acquired ownership of 22,000,000 acres of land, the negro population has increased from 15,000,000 to 18,000,000, and more than 400,000 own homes and farms, more than 500 newspapers and periodicals are published by negroes, more than 3000 negro women are employed in millinery establishments, and more than 2000 are employed as stenographers or office girls."

"I shall urge young men of the negro race to study suzerainty and give particular attention to trade in South America, where I believe there are many advantageous openings for negroes in commerce. Our purpose is to educate negroes to put into every line of business. It is our purpose to educate them in business."

Napier deplored the race riots and said he firmly believed in strict obedience to law by men and women on all occasions.

At the evening meeting Capt. Francis E. Turin will speak in behalf of the St. Louis Convention Bureau and Prof. Frank E. Williams also will speak.

Many Addresses Scheduled. Among the addresses later in the session will be: I. W. Harper, a negro business man of New York, on "Managing My Own Department Store;" R. T. Thomas of Clarkdale, Miss., and C. W. Miller of Royle, Miss., on "Making Farm Pay;" H. T. Byrd, president of Columbia, Mo., on "Successful Operation of the Catering Business;" John Nunnally of Bluffton, Mo., on "The Combining of Farming and Merchandising;" C. A. Barrett, Chicago, on "Advertising."

The convention will close Friday evening. Local headquarters for delegates is at the Pine Street Y. M. C. A., Twenty-ninth and Pine streets.

MRS. ISAAC T. COOK OBTAINS A DIVORCE

Manager of Arcade, Wright and Chemical Buildings Must Pay Alimony.

Mrs. Jessie McRea Cook of 4314 Lindell boulevard today obtained a divorce from Isaac T. Cook, manager of the Arcade, Wright and Chemical Buildings, after saying to Circuit Judge Hartmann, who heard the case, that her separation from Cook in July, 1913, was because of another woman.

In her suit, filed Monday afternoon, Mrs. Cook merely alleged desertion. She said on the witness stand that her husband left her six years ago last month, and that their relations had previously been pleasant.

Tells of Other Woman. This general statement did not satisfy Judge Hartmann, who asked: "What was the cause of the separation?" "He just left the house," Mrs. Cook replied.

"Had there been a quarrel?" "No," said Mrs. Cook, hesitatingly. "No difference?" "I suppose it was on account of another woman," Mrs. Cook then answered.

"Do you know of your own knowledge whether your husband is still attentive to this woman?" the judge asked.

"Yes, sir," she replied at first, but then added, "it is not the same woman." She then said she was not informed as to her husband's conduct and arrangements at the present time.

Her three character witnesses were Mrs. Mary Morrison Taylor of 4229 Washington boulevard, Mrs. William Sutherland of 4412 Lindell boulevard, and the Rev. N. L. Ewer, assistant pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church.

Mother to Have Son. The custody of Carleton Cook, a son, 17 years old, was awarded to Mrs. Cook by the court, and these financial arrangements, contained in a written stipulation, were made. Mrs. Cook shall receive $500 a month alimony, beginning Sept. 1. Upon making over to Cook 210 shares of stock of the Frisco Building Co., jointly held by them, she shall receive $10,000.

Upon releasing her claim upon Cook's life insurance, she shall receive $3500. One year hence she shall receive $1500, making a total of $15,000 cash payments, in addition to monthly alimony. Cook shall pay for her attorney's fees, amounting to $1000.

Cook was not in court, but entered his appearance, and his attorney, Henry S. Caulfield, was present.

WAR BROKE CARNEGIE'S HEART, SAYS DEPEW

He Was Never the Same After Beginning of Conflict, Declares Former Senator.

By the Associated Press. LENOX, Mass., Aug. 13.—The number of those who will hear the funeral rites over the body of Andrew Carnegie at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning will be greater than was expected. It was originally planned to have those at the service limited closely, but since the death of the once great ironmaster war has been received from more and more of his close associates, and the list of those expected has gradually expanded.

Reservations are being made at several hotels for friends. The plan for the removal of the body to Tarrytown, N. Y., has been withheld, as it is the wish of the family that the transfer be made with as little publicity as possible. There were few callers yesterday at Shadow Brook.

Among the guests at the Aspin Wall is perhaps the only former associate of Mr. Carnegie who is his elder and survives him. This is Choussier M. Depew, now in his eighty-sixth year, and who spoke today of Mr. Carnegie as his junior.

Reciting how Carnegie had devoted millions in efforts to prevent war, he said that the world conflict had broken Mr. Carnegie's heart and that the ironmaster was never the same after war was declared.

"He became obsessed with the idea," said Depew, "that the future of the world depended on the abolition of war. He created a permanent fund for the propaganda of peace. He built the palace at La Hague for its home."

"I never knew any one so interested in any one thing as he was in the peace of the world. He firmly believed that his efforts to prevent war would succeed. When war came, surpassing in its tragedies, it broke Mr. Carnegie's heart. He was never the same again."

"I asked Mr. Carnegie once," said Depew, "if it was true that to die rich was to die in disgrace. He replied that that was his belief. But what is rich?"

"Abraham S. Hewitt said to me 30 years ago that no man is rich unless he wears the life suit of peace. Mr. Carnegie's idea was much larger than that of Mr. Hewitt."

"At 60, in the prime of his life and powers, he made the most wonderful bargain, because he dictated the situation, by selling his plant at his own price to the United States Steel Corporation and then with characteristic audacity he sent on the same day for George W. Smalley, at the time American correspondent for the London Times, and told him the whole story."

"The story electrified both Europe and America. The world began asking 'what will he do with it?'" "But Mr. Carnegie was always original," he announced that he had enough and intended to devote his activities to the benefit of mankind. He created his own system in philanthropy and distributed his gifts in his own uninfluenced way."

EXTRA SEATS ARE REQUIRED FOR FASHION SHOW CROWDS
Next Little Auto Coat at $750 Is Shown As One of the Season's Novelties.

A crowd which necessitated putting in three extra rows of seats witnessed the third performance of the Fashion Pageant at the Municipal Theater last night. It will be repeated tonight and on Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week.

The pageant proper, after two performances last week and intermediate rehearsals, went with admirable smoothness and the fashion review was practically new as many of the gowns on display were not included in last week's exhibition.

One of the novelties shown last night was a field gray automobile coat of leather, designed to retail at the comfortable price of $750.

EAST ST. LOUIS CAR MEN GET WAGE INCREASE

Labor Board Grants 500 Employees 12 Per Cent Higher Pay. Requested 100 Per Cent.

Employees of the East St. Louis & Suburban Railway, including the East St. Louis city line and interurban lines running out of East St. Louis, were awarded a 12 per cent wage increase yesterday by the War Labor Board, which acted on their application made early in May for increased nearly 100 per cent.

William O. Leary, president of the East St. Louis union of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, said he would not comment on the decision until he received it officially. Other members of the union also refused to discuss it.

W. H. Sawyer, president of the company, said that the wage increase would mean that East St. Louis must have increased fares. Sawyer, in a statement two weeks ago, said conditions brought about by increased costs would make any increase in fares imperative even if wages were not increased. The fare on the East St. Louis city line is 6 cents.

The employees have been receiving from 41 cents to 45 cents an hour on all lines, including the Belleville line, except the interurban lines, where they receive 47 cents. On the Alton line they are asked for an increase to 62 cents, on the city and Belleville lines to 50 cents, on the interurban lines to 57 1/2 cents, and on the East St. Louis Columbia & Waterloo road to 62 cents.

Officials of the East St. Louis & Suburban road said the increase would amount to approximately $250 a day. It applies to about 500 motormen, conductors and shopmen.

A National Problem Solved

Pure, Wholesome Food + Nujol = Health

PURE, wholesome food is necessary, but it is not enough. The purest, most wholesome food will hinder rather than help health if allowed to clog the colon—the large intestine. And doctors agree that about 90% of our ailments are caused or intensified by constipation.

Some part of even the purest and most wholesome food is waste. If this waste is not kept moving out of the body, it stagnates and breeds poisons which saturate the system and cause or nourish disease.

The old, wrong way to attack such stagnation was to force a passage through the impacted mass.

The new, right way to overcome it is to let Nujol induce easy self-elimination.

And since health is as much a matter of how we eliminate waste as how we assimilate food-fuel, it must become evident to every thinking person that the use of a natural, drugless lubricant is as sensible and necessary as the eating of pure, wholesome food.

The three vital processes upon which health is based are Mastication, Assimilation, Elimination.

Therefore, the perfect recipe for health is thorough Mastication; Pure, wholesome Food, and Nujol.

Try this trinity. Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today.

ESCAPED CONVICT FOUND AT HOME OF HIS BROTHER

Former County Motorcycle Policeman Who Flew From Jefferson City Is Retaken.

Fred Krenning, known also as "Fulton," former motor cycle policeman in St. Louis County, who escaped Thursday from the penitentiary in Jefferson City, where he was serving seven years for burglary and auto theft, was captured at 10 o'clock last night at the home of his brother, 1613 1/2 Arlington avenue, after Lieut. Christner and five policemen had surrounded the house on a "tip" by telephone that Krenning could be found there.

Krenning said he had just arrived at the home and was preparing to retire when the police entered. He told police that after escaping he walked to Washington, Mo., halfway between St. Louis and Jefferson City, where he hid under some coal in a freight car and rode to St. Louis, arriving yesterday.

Saturday police announced that Wallace and Clarence H. Feller of 3509 Garfield avenue, who had testified against Krenning, had appeared for protection, telling of threats that had been received at the plant in letters purporting to come from Krenning and a telephone message Wallace had received Saturday from a person claiming a relationship to Krenning threatening him and other witnesses in the case.

Wallace and Feller yesterday, following the publication Sunday of the police statement that they had asked for protection, denied that they had received threatening letters. They said that they had merely made inquiries concerning Krenning and that the police were mistaken in assuming that they sought protection and in stating that they had received threatening letters.

YIDDISH RAGTIME CONCERT DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

Yiddish ragtime was greatly relished by a large audience last night at the Sheldon Memorial Auditorium, where Solomon Small, or Smulewitz, gave a concert of his popular songs. There was a "Hymn to Peace" ("Zol a mol shon shalom zeln") with a snappy jazz refrain; and another ditty, "The Downy" ("Nadan Geld") was sung in the peppiest American style. This song advised young women, in case their suitors, however handsome, demand money along with their hands, to dismiss them with a kick—the singer brandishing one foot violently to show how the operation should be accomplished. This sentiment was enthusiastically applauded by the feminine part of the audience, while the male contingent adopted the cautious air of a Republican Senator inspecting the peace treaty.

Another song, "Pogromen," described with massacres of Jews in Poland, and caused many groans to arise. Smulewitz is no great singer and his compositions, judging by those given last night, are by no means classic, but he delivered them in an effective declamatory style, with much gesticulation and facial expression.

The sensation of the concert was the organ playing of Miss Dena Sachs, 16 years old. When the first tones pealed out, a child was so terrified that it was borne out screaming. The organ was surrounded by groups of wondering children and adults, while others gazed in amazement at where tones appeared to emerge from the wall. A well-informed member of the audience explained that as instrumental music is forbidden in the orthodox synagogues, probably half of those present had never heard an organ before.

Maurice Sachs, 16 years old, played violin solos calling for harmonies, left-hand pizzicato, double-stopping and other virtuoso feats. Miss Sachs not only played two organ solos, but the piano accompaniments for her brother and for Smulewitz. Alexander Goodman presided.

PRICES OF MILK PRODUCERS ARE ORDERED INVESTIGATED

The Attorney-General's office at Washington yesterday ordered United States District Attorney Burnside, for the Southern District of Illinois, to make an immediate investigation of the Southern Illinois Milk Producers' Association, with instructions to present any evidence of illegal price fixing to the grand jury. The milk price situation here and a request for an investigation of the producers' association were presented by Congressman Dyer in response to a letter from Post Commissioner Cunliff of this city. Cunliff was appointed by Mayor Kiel to investigate the situation and has held several hearings of distributors and dairymen.

None of the distributors filled out the questionnaires for detailed information on distribution costs, sent out Saturday by Cunliff. They ask more time to supply this information.

At a resumption of the hearings by Cunliff yesterday afternoon, Oregon E. Scott, president of the City Dairies Co., said all the distributing companies lost money in the last year. He predicted higher retail prices unless action is taken against the producers' association.

Lazy Life During Hot Months Causes Lazy Liver

AT no other time is the girl so constant a companion of her mother as when she is emerging into womanhood. There are so many questions to ask; so much she needs to know.

And school is over. Here is now a lazy, inactive, careless life. No wonder she is not always as lively and as well as she should be at her age. Let the mother inquire if the bowels are functioning properly, for there lies the basis of good and poor health.

It will usually be found that a laxative is needed, and none will give safer and quicker relief than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which is just a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. Taken tonight, it acts freely and pleasantly in the morning. The head is again clear, the body light. There is renewed interest in life.

A dose of Syrup Pepsin now and then is almost a necessity for everyone in hot weather. A bottle can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter being the family size, or a free trial bottle can be had by sending your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

The August Sale of Furs

Trophies of the Cold Northland in Rich Array

"Have you known the Great White Silence, not a snow-gemmed twig aquiver?"

"Have you broken trail on snowshoe? Mushed your huskies up the river?
Dared the Unknown, led the way, and clutched
the prize?"

FILLED with peril, adventure, and even with romance, is the early history of the gleaming Furs we have assembled for your selection. But, from the daring of the hardy trappers who so carefully planned the time of year and methods of catching the fur-bearing animals to the last stitch of the making up, all efforts have been dedicated to Beauty, Quality and Fashion.

Woman is essentially a beauty-loving individual. In no other way has she found such a satisfactory expression of these finer feelings than in the wearing of Furs.
This season it will be especially so, since the designs are even more fascinating than those of past years and the pelts and combinations of Furs are the very epitomes of loveliness.

In response to this, the first Winter days will find all womanhood garbed in Furs. The fashionable wrap will be the one of fur, and the approved accessory to the tailleur or dress will be the fur neckpiece in either chocker or more generous styles.

Economy of the best sort is told in our August Sale of Furs. Since our early purchases the market has made almost unbelievable advances. Later additions to the stock will be priced considerably higher. Another advantage of buying Furs now is the opportunity of selecting from a fresh complete stock, thus assuring yourself of entire satisfaction. Our collection awaits your inspection.

Lift Off Corns!

Doesn't hurt! Lift touchy corns and calluses right off with fingers

Apply a few drops of "Freezone" upon that old, bothersome corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting. Then shortly you lift it right off, root and all, without pain or soreness.

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes, and the hard skin calluses on bottom of feet lift right off—no humbug!

Tiny bottles of "Freezone" cost but a few cents at drug stores

This Bank Does Want Small Checking Accounts

—and we'll tell you why.

Of course it is understood that we seek large accounts—every bank does that. But the National Bank of Commerce wants small accounts as well.

And here are our reasons:

The balances of small accounts do not fluctuate very much. They compose a constant and dependable total from day to day and season to season.

We expect to make a friend of every customer. A depositor with a two hundred dollar balance may bring in someone to start an account of $5000.

Ours is an institution of many departments. The man with a small checking account may start a Savings Account; he may buy a bond from our Bond Department; he may do some business with our Foreign Department; he may rent a safe deposit box; he may make his will and name this bank executor.

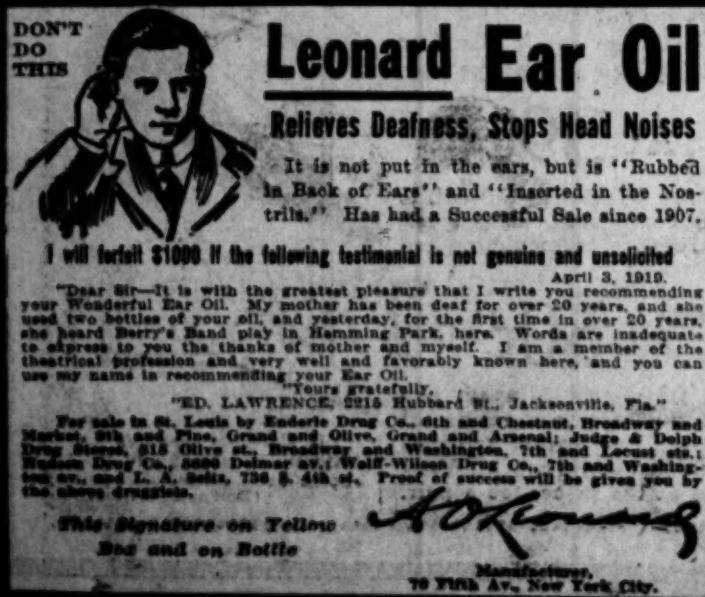

And, as an important last reason. We know that small accounts often become large ones, especially with the co-operation of a strong and helpful bank—and The National Bank of Commerce is just that kind of institution.

Let's talk it over. Come in to see us—or we'll send a man to you if you'll phone or write.

Leonard Ear Oil

Relieves Deafness, Stops Head Noises

It is not put in the ears, but is "Rubbed in Back of Ears" and "Inserted in the Nostrils." Has had a Successful Sale since 1907.

I will forfeit $1000 if the following testimonial is not genuine and unaltered

"Dear Sir—It is with the greatest pleasure that I write you recommending your Wonderful Ear Oil. My mother has been deaf for over 20 years, and she used two bottles of your oil, and yesterday, for the first time in over 20 years, she heard Berry's Band playing in Hamming Park, here. Words are inadequate to express to you the thanks of mother and myself. I am a member of the theatrical profession and very well and favorably known here, and you can use my name in recommending your Ear Oil."

Yours gratefully,
"ED. LAWRENCE, 2215 Hubbard St., Jacksonville, Fla."

ROBBERS POSING AS POLICE HOLDUP ROOMING HOUSES

Three Armed Men in Automobile Make Afternoon Raids on Two Places.

Three men in an automobile, posing as policemen, made raids on the homes of Mrs. Margaret Farrell, 622 North Garrison avenue, and Hazel Miller, 3616 Locust street, robbing roomers in each place, at 5 o'clock yesterday evening. Two suspects are held.

At the Farrell house two of the men got out of the auto and drawing revolvers "rushed" the front door, breaking it down. As they ran upstairs they yelled, "We're policemen. Everybody throw up their hands." Mrs. Farrell was compelled to go into the dining room, where she was covered with a revolver and kept there while the second man entered the room of Alex Fetzloff on the second floor. Fetzloff was changing clothes. He was ordered to bed and while he was kept there the robber searched his trousers and took $9. They searched several rooms in the home, but finding no one else at home, departed.

A half hour before this three men answering the same description had forced their way into the house of Hazel Miller at the Locust street address, where they held up Dollie Burke, a roomer, and held her a prisoner in the room while they searched the place, taking $10.90 from a purse. They left in the machine, driving to Garrison avenue and thence north.

INDUSTRIAL ART POSTERS ON EXHIBITION IN DOWNTOWN STORE

Retailer Also Will Co-operate With Exposition in Displaying Competitive Designs.

The Associated Retailers in co-operation with the St. Louis Exposition of Industrial Arts and Crafts will exhibit in the Scruggs-Vandervoort-Barney and other downtown stores a group of poster designs selected from the Exposition Poster Competition. The exhibition at Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney's started this morning.

Harland Frazer's prize poster design, which won the $200 prize, is a feature of the collection. This already has been reproduced in the Post-Dispatch. A second Frazer poster, which is reported to have divided the attention of the jury to the last, shows an aboriginal American decorating a work of native pottery, while objects of basketry and weaving are pictured in the background. This was considered in some respects the best poster effect, but was placed second because it represents the handicraft rather than the broader theme of the merging of the industries and arts.

Frazer's winning poster, however, is not only a striking and effective color composition in purple, gold and green, but also is instructive. Labor and industry are represented by a stalwart youth, Atlas-like, upholding the world, and the American woman representing Art is bestowing upon it the necessary decorative quality.

CHILDREN GO TO BED HUNGRY, BOY IN DETENTION AT JAIL SAYS

12-Year-Old Lad Tells County Board of Visitors of Meals Served by Mrs. Bopp.

Children in the St. Louis County Juvenile detention room at the county jail, of which Mrs. Louis H. Bopp, wife of Sheriff Bopp, is matron, go to bed at night hungry, according to the testimony of George Field, 12 years old, before the St. Louis County Board of Visitors yesterday. The boy stated that they usually get a half cup of coffee, one piece of bologna sausage and four pieces of bread and molasses for a meal.

The board decided to stay and see what was served for lunch today. The meal consisted of beans, two pieces of fat pork, three or four pieces of bread and water in which the beans had been cooked, for each child. Mrs. C. C. Wolf, secretary of the board, said they estimated that there was 10 to 15 cents profit made on each meal served.

After inspecting the county jail, the Board of Visitors announced that it would recommend to the County Court next Friday that the jail be painted, the plumbing repaired, the women's department be provided with a bathtub and that each person brought to the jail be given a bath immediately.

DIVORCE SUIT SAYS WIFE PULLED OFF BED COVERS

Petition Complains She Turned Off Alarm Clock, Causing Him to Be Late for Work.

In a divorce suit filed yesterday afternoon by George Eckhardt Jr. against Myra Eckhardt, he alleges she annoyed him by turning off the alarm clock, thus causing him to be late for work, and that at times she pulled the covers off his bed when he was asleep.

Her present residence, he says, is in San Francisco. He alleges he brought her to St. Louis after their marriage in January, 1913, but she said St. Louis was a "hell of a town" and refused to remain here.

Legion Post to Honor Dunker. Charles H. Dunker Post of the American Legion will be organized this fall by students and former students of Washington University who served in the war. Capt. Dunker, after whom the post is to be named, was the son of Charles H. Dunker of Brentmoor Park, and was a graduate of Washington University in the class of 1914. He served in the 340th Field Artillery, and was killed in action Oct. 17 last. His home was at 4131 Pershing avenue.

CHICAGO THEATERS CLOSED BY STRIKE OF ACTORS' EQUITY

Boston and Philadelphia Also Affected by Spread of Walkout of Stage People.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The actors' strike spread to Chicago yesterday, where the walkout compelled the Coban Grand Opera House and the Cort Theater to close. A meeting of the Actors' Equity Association was held in Boston to determine whether its members should go on strike there. New York managers admitted that there was unrest in Philadelphia. The Producing Managers' Association here is bending its strongest efforts toward preventing the strike spreading to the other cities where they have heavy financial interests. They were in long distance communication with their attorneys in the three cities after they had received the news that Francis Wilson, president of the Actors' Equity Association, had gone to Chicago. The managers engaged O'Brien and Malvenskie, attorneys, and instructed them to prevent the theaters from closing by getting injunctions. In the Chicago situation, at least, their action was too late. Other developments are:
Ethel Barrymore has become an active speaker and worker for the strikers.

George M. Cohan said: "Before I will ever do business with the Actors' Equity Association, I will lose every dollar I have, even if I have to run an elevator to make a living." Cohan resigned from the Friars and Lamb clubs.

Marie Dressler has been elected head of the Chorus Equity Association. The A. E. A., although composed only of legitimate actors, has pledged itself never to make an agreement with the management until the latter grants better conditions to the chorus girls.

The managers have issued a long statement from David Warfield, telling why he had aligned himself with E. H. Sothern in the formation of a new association of actors now being formed.

Will Give Contracts.

Walter Hast, celebrated English producer, announced that he will give Equity contracts for all of his seven forthcoming attractions, which he is presenting in connection with the Shuberts. Hast is not a member of the Producing Managers' Association.

Ten theaters are still dark.
By the widening of the fight to include the chorus people the legiti-mate actors have pledged themselves to gain concessions for these performers which did not figure in the controversy when it began.

It was stated that the suits for $500,000 filed by the Shuberts against the equity and nearly 300 of its most prominent members, are but the forerunner of suits to be filed by other managers which will run into the millions.

Federal Judge A. M. Hand yesterday granted an order in the Shuberts' suit requiring the Actors' Association and individual members to show cause why they should not be enjoined from intimidating players who are said to be desirous of continuing their employment in Shubert productions.

After a managers' conference it was learned that at least a few several of the managers whose business has been damaged by the strike were making a search of tax rolls and property records in counties adjoining
New York to ascertain the extent of actors' property holdings preliminary to bringing suits for damages against the strikers.

Charles C. Shay, president of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees, declared at a meeting of strikers that if the managers prosecute suits against the actors the stage hands will go into the fight on the side of the strikers.
The strikers also made it made that George W. Wickes, former Attorney-General of the United States, would defend the actors if the suits came to trial.

Other Chicago Playhouses Expected To Be Dark Tonight.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Many Chicago playhouses are expected to be "dark" tonight as the result of a meeting of actors early this morning, at which it was decided a strike started last night and which resulted in the closing of the Cort and Co-han's Grand theaters would be extended to other houses today.

The closing of the Cort and Co-han's followed the arrival from New York of Francis Wilson, President of the Equity Association of actors and artists. As soon as he had communicated with other members of the association in the casts at the two playhouses the principals gave notice to the managers that they would not appear in the night performance. Similar action was taken at the La Salle by the management hurriedly placing an orchestra in the pit, rules of the association preventing a walkout by performers after the orchestra is seated. The manager of Woods' Theater assembled his actors on the stage, ordered the doors locked and read a legal warning against the performers failing to go on with this show. The grievances of the actors here are the same as in New York, where it is alleged the Producing Managers' Association refused to recognize the Equity Association contract providing for extra pay for "overtime" such as Sundays and holiday performances.

The managers of the theaters also held a meeting early today at which suits for damages are said to have been decided upon against striking actors. It was announced that the Cort management would seek an injunction today.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Nitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing the neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness. Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as Nitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Judge & Delph, Wholesale Drug Stores, Johnson Bros. Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. in St. Louis and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphate food elements, the increase in weight frequently being astonishing. I have seen improvement in the health, nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should be dispensed with. I have seen the eyes brighten and the cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Nitro-phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION—Although Nitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—ADV.

UNIVERSITY CITY RESIDENTS OBJECT TO GARBAGE HAULING
University City residents met last night at the home of A. Honerkamp, 4527 Bismarck avenue, to protest against the hauling of St. Louis garbage through the streets and to make plans to stop the practice.
It was complained that the passing garbage wagons drop oil-like drippings and that ill-smelling refuse falls from the top of the load into the street. About 14 wagons pass through Barmier avenue between 8 and 10 a. m. each day and residents say that doors and windows must be closed to keep out the stench. An appeal has been made to the City Marshal to arrest drivers, so that a test case can be made.
Honerkamp and Sid Coulter of 4520 Barmier avenue and Frank Ross of 4408 Barmier avenue were appointed a committee to see what can be done to abate the nuisance.

FOOD PRICES HIGHER HERE THAN WEEK AGO

Sharp Decline After Announcement of Inquiry Followed by General Advance.

Food prices generally are higher today in St. Louis than they were a week ago, a survey of the various markets disclosed this morning. Following the Government's declaration of war against the high cost of living, food prices declined sharply. These reductions now have, for the most part, been made up, and the prices are as high, or higher, than before.

Hogs, at $23.35 a hundred pounds, on the hoof, are only 15 cents under the record high price today. A week ago they sold at $22.40. While beef steers, at $18 a hundred, are 50 cents under the top price of a week ago, the quality offered today was not as good as then. Lambs sold today on the hoof at $16.75 cents a hundred pounds, 25 cents higher than a week ago.

Vegetables have accompanied meats on their upward journey, although the wholesale prices received today by farmers do not appear in all cases to justify the increases made by retailers.
The retail price of potatoes today is 4 1/2 cents a pound, compared with a price of 3 1/2 cents a week ago. This is in the face of the fact that the U. S. Bureau of Markets here today reports that farmers are selling potatoes wholesale at 10 cents less per 100 pounds than a week ago.

White onions that were 7 cents a pound a week ago, are 9 cents. The wholesale price is 25 cents a 100 pounds higher than a week ago. String beans are 4 1/2 cents a pound. A week ago they were 3 1/2 cents. Cantaloupes are selling at $2.75 per case of 45 wholesale, lower than a week ago, but the same retail price of 10 cents each prevails.

Fruits have followed the general tendency of reaching greater heights. Lemons that retailed at 25 cents a dozen a week ago are 27 cents today. Peas that went at 10 cents a pound are 12 1/2. Peaches are about the same, retail, and slightly higher, wholesale.

With the exception of wheat, which is under Government guarantee, the prices of grain are generally higher than a week ago. Corn, which a week ago was selling on the Merchants' Exchange at $2.02 1/4 a bushel, was quoted yesterday at $2.09-10. Oats that brought 72 to 73 cents a bushel then sold yesterday for 75 cents.

Pork was quoted on the market yesterday at $47.10 a barrel, while the low price of a week before was $44.50. Ribbs quoted a week ago at $25.50 a barrel, sold yesterday for $26.35. Lard prices were as low as $30.80 per tierce a week ago. The lowest yesterday was $31.35.

Several dealers who were questioned said they could not explain the continued increase, except that the demand was greater, and the supply shorter. They could not explain, they said, why prices have gone down in Chicago and other cities while they went up here.

NEGRO RETURNS FOR $200, BUT POLICEMEN MEET HIM
Thought He Was Going to Sell Automobile, but Is Arrested Instead.

An automobile belonging to John Rushing, Paducah, Ky., stolen in East St. Louis Monday, was recovered by detectives yesterday in the garage of Beverly Tucker, 2633 Chouteau avenue, where policemen had laid a trap for a negro who had put the auto in the garage.
The negro, Henry Brown, 20 years old, 3356 Laclede avenue, was arrested when he called at the garage later to collect $200 which he supposed was to be paid him for the car. He admitted the theft.

Tucker told police the negro had driven the auto to the garage Monday evening and said he had driven it from Columbia, Ky., and was tired of it and wanted to sell it cheap. Tucker was suspicious and told the negro to return. The negro took the Kentucky license plate with him, borrowed $10 from Tucker and said he would return Tuesday for the rest of the cash. In the meantime Tucker called detectives and they traced the engine numbers and lay in wait.

COLUMBIA STUDENT TEACHERS DISCUSS FORMATION OF UNION

Instructors Advise for and Against Affiliation With American Federation of Teachers.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 13.—Teachers enrolled in the Missouri university summer session held a meeting Monday to debate whether they would join the Missouri Teachers' Association or the American Federation of Teachers, which is associated with the American Federation of Labor. The meeting was not entirely free from acrimony and there were several tense moments.

Prof. Jesse E. Wrench, a member of the university faculty, met with the students. He is an ardent advocate of unionism among school teachers. The chief objection interposed to the national organization was that it is connected with the labor unions in this expression: "Let us not hitch ourselves to an engine merely because it has power. It may pull us into the wrong station."

A committee of seven was appointed to write a constitution patterned after the American Federation of Teachers.

Prof. Burroughs of the English faculty of the university said: "I cannot, with any decent sort of conscience, advise any young man to go into teaching. We have to apologize for our living conditions. In one place in Missouri the school board refused to raise the salary of the assistant janitor because it would then have been greater than that of some of the teachers."

"There is only one question, that of increasing wages," said Prof. Wrench. "I see no reason why we should be ashamed to ally ourselves with the laboring men. We can't lie back on our altruistic feelings any longer. Feelings don't make leaders or followers. Are we going to be leaders or followers?"

Many members of the university faculty met with the teachers, students and advised them to favor affiliation with the American Federation of Labor.

STATE'S OFFICERS IN WAR FORMING AN ASSOCIATION

Outgrowth of Organization That Provided Relief for Families.

A movement has been started to form a permanent organization of Missouri officers who were commissioned officers in the war. This is an outgrowth of the Missouri Officers' Association, which had as its objects assisting officers' families when necessary while the men were at the front, and helping the officer satisfactorily to resume his place in civil life on his return from service.

A committee on organization, which is composed of representatives of army, navy, marines, aviation corps, engineers' corps and national guard, is announced as follows: Col. F. W. Green, chairman; Col. E. R. Harris, Col. Frank Rumbold, Col. F. G. Jones, Maj. S. W. Goodwin, Col. William C. Cull, Maj. Wilson Burden, Lieutenant-Commander E. A. Brooks, Lieut. L. C. McLaughlin and Lieut. Leo Ferrenbach.

When the Missouri organization is completed it may become a unit of the National Association of American Officers. Information about the plans is being given out by Mrs. Virginia M. Harris, secretary of the Missouri Officers' Association, 304 Rialto Building.

CORRECTION IN RAND'S FIGURES AS TO COST OF MAKING SHOES

The Post-Dispatch has received a number of letters calling attention to an error in a news story last Sunday's Post-Dispatch giving a table of the cost of manufacture by the International Shoe Co. of a pair of shoes. The table, which was compiled by Frank C. Rand, president of the company, carried the cost of each item entering into the manufacture of a pair of shoes which the company sells to retailers at $8.50. The total was $3.15.

In the letters it was pointed out that the figures making up the total added only made $7.15. The error was typographical and was in the cost of vamps (velour calf) 12-3 feet at $1.30, making $2.15. As printed this item was erroneously given as $1.17. The table given out by Mr. Rand had the item $2.17, and with it at that figure the total would be $3.15, which is the total given by Mr. Rand.

U. S. ARMY MISSION TO ARMENIA

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Aug. 13.—Major-General James G. Harbord, chief of staff of the American Expeditionary Forces, will leave Paris soon at the head of a mission which will visit Armenia and Transcaucasia under instructions from President Wilson, transmitted through Frank L. Polk, Assistant Secretary of State, to investigate conditions there from a military viewpoint.

Baby Harness Was Healed Of Itching Eczema By Cuticura

"My baby eighteen months old had eczema on his face. It was a big, red, blood spots and blisters that broke and there was a discharge. Then the patches got dry, and the pain and burning and itching were so severe that scratching caused the eruption to spread and get in hard crusts all over his face. He was so cross he could not sleep either day or night."

He had suffered over three months when I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I afterwards bought a cake of Soap and one fifty-cent box of Ointment, and he was healed. (Signed Mrs. J. L. Harness, Route 1, Blakesburg, Iowa.)

For every purpose of the toilet and bath, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are wonderfully good.

Send 3c for sample of Soap and Talcum. For sample case free address: "Cuticura Lab., Boston, Mass."

TRUCK EXPEDITION WELL ON ITS WAY TO SEDALIA FAIR

Motor Cars Departed at 5:15 A. M. on 485-Mile Trip to Show Practicability of Transportation.

NO ACCIDENTS ON FIRST LEG OF TRIP

Rain That Threatened Caravan Passes Off and Sun Makes Weather Ideal for run.

The St. Louis motor truck expedition, which departed early today for the State fair at Sedalia, Mo., a 485-mile trip, for the purpose of presenting an exhibition in behalf of the ship-by-truck movement, arrived at Washington, Mo., at 10:30 a. m., and the participants announced that they would have lunch at Hermann. Twenty-five trucks cleared the circus lot at Sarah street and West Pine boulevard at 5:15 o'clock. The expedition moved west on West Pine to Taylor, south to Clayton avenue, west to Clayton road, west to North and South road, south to Manchester road, through Gray's Summit, to Villa Ridge and thence along the cut-off to Washington. The arrival in Washington was on schedule time.

Farmers along the route displayed much interest in the expedition. They quit their work in the fields and watched the procession. Tractor Drops Behind. No accidents were reported. The wheat tractor, Berry training school's entry, failed to keep up with the other trucks and was lost sight of at Elliptical, 10 miles out on the Manchester road. The tractor carried a banner on which was inscribed: "Trailer—To Sedalia or Bust."

In the early part of the trip through St. Louis County the expedition encountered a sprinkle of rain but the skies cleared and the sun came out.

The two-ton truck entered by the General Motor Truck Co. carried a stock of phonographs to be delivered at the Sedalia branch of a piano company.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.'s entry, a two and one-half ton Chrysler, carried 1500 pounds of tires from the St. Louis branch of the company for distribution at 10 places on the tour.

Garfords Make Trip. Among the trucks that made the start were two Garford 2-ton trucks which are a part of the fleet of the Southwestern Milling Company of St. Louis. One has been in service three years, and is No. 1 of the fleet, while the other is a 1919 model. Both are loaded with 100-pound sacks of sawdust and sand. In the new truck there are several hundred pounds of flour in small sacks.

The International Harvester Co.'s 4-ton and a 1-ton International truck have as part of their load a 50-gallon barrel of gasoline with spout installed. The balance of the load consists of 1000 pounds of sand in bags. Five gallon can of lubricating oil also is included.

A Republic 1½-ton light delivery truck with closed body in the city for the distribution of oleomargarine was entered by a customer of the F. C. Meyer Motor Truck Co.

The Newell Motor Car Co. entered a Paige 2-ton truck with a special dump body with automatic tail gate. An all-weather cab protects the driver's seat.

The Traffic Truck Corporation of St. Louis entered five 2-ton trucks. One is loaded on another of the same size by means of a special body built of 18-foot lengths of channel steel and will be hauled to Sedalia to be delivered to T. A. Hickerson, the Traffic dealer there. The weight of the truck is 3500 pounds. Another of the Traffic entrants carries a large sign with the inscription on each side: "Boost Missouri. Boost good roads and let your 'horse sense' guide you." This carries an electric calliope.

Will Light Speakers' Stand. A complete Delco Lighting System is carried in a Traffic truck with a stake body, to be used as the speakers' stand at the control points, and at brief stops where short talks on the development of good roads and motor transportation and their close relationship will be given. Two 12-inch spotlights will be used whenever the lighting facilities at a stopping point are inadequate.

A Delco electric water pumping system for farm use is also carried on the same truck. Electric lights will illuminate three sides of the truck when night addresses are made.

Another Traffic truck is entered with a cattle combination body that may be used for hauling either live stock or garden produce. But a simple operation is necessary to change the body style.

All of the Traffic trucks with the exception of the one loaded on the other are equipped with pneumatic cord tires direct from the Traffic Truck Corporation factories in North St. Louis.

The Weber Implement and Auto Co. has a Maxwell 1½-ton truck entered with an all-weather cab and stake body.

Carries Load of Tires. The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company entered a Federal 1½-ton truck used in their service department which is loaded with tires and tubes to be delivered to the P.

M. Garage, a dealer in Jefferson City. A Pioneer All Steel 5-ton truck was entered by Harry Newman, Inc. It is equipped with steel disc wheels and an all-weather cab covering the driver's seat. It has solid rubber tires and carries no body, being stripped to the chassis.

A Wheat Tractor of the John Berry Training School with solid rubber tires which withdraw from the first expedition because of the doubtful conditions of the road at that time in some parts of Northern Missouri and Illinois lined up for the start. A four-wheeled trailer was attached to the tractor, which is equipped with three Klaxon horns and carries a banner on each side which reads, "To Missouri State Fair or Bust." The Briscoe Motor Sales Company entered the chassis of a 3½-ton Stewart truck which arrived in

Make Money With a Maxwell Cash In on High Prices While They Last

High prices for farm products doesn't mean that every farmer is making money. The high prices he gets are largely offset by the high prices he pays. So his problem is to cut production costs. Either by getting more done in a day or by getting done at less cost.

THE MAXWELL MOTOR TRUCK does both. It will do in one hour what now requires three. It will save the wages of two men and the labor of six horses. It will enable you to keep your horses busy in the fields at work they do best. You'll produce more and you'll do it with fewer men.

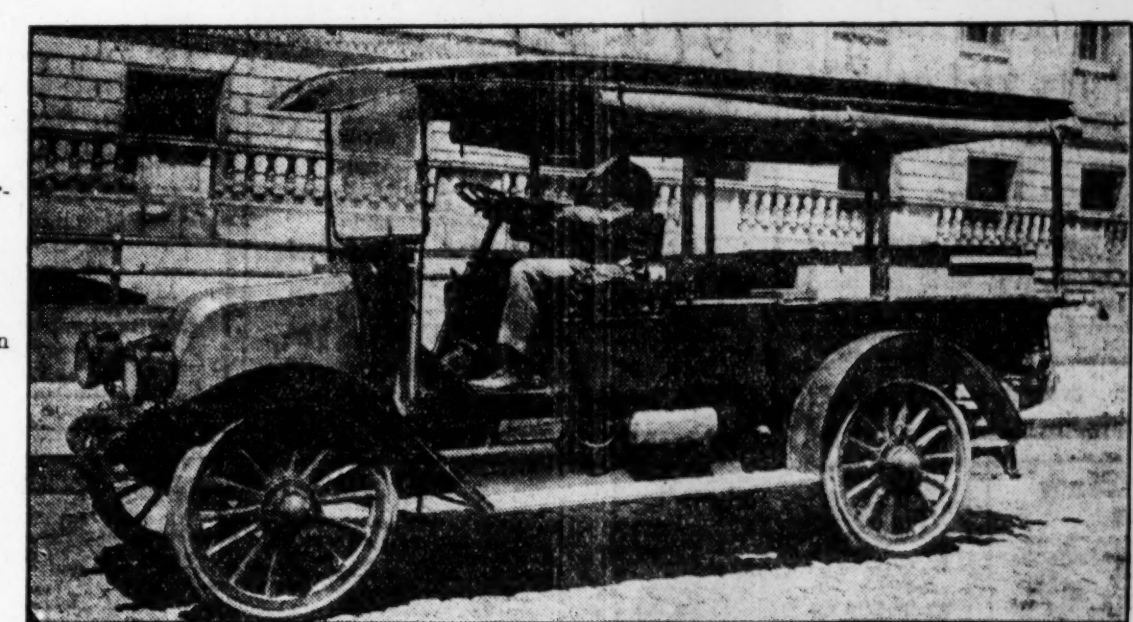

The Maxwell is built to carry 3000 pounds, but often carries 4000. Its rear axle is oversized and its loading space larger than common. Its sturdy engine and worm drive give it unusual power for its weight. It has a speed of 20 miles an hour and gets 16 miles from a gallon of gas.

the city at the last moment yesterday. The Martin Motor Truck Co., Inc., entered a Diamond T truck of 1½-ton capacity which carries a "farmer's special" body of combination stake and side board construction, with a cab over the driver's seat. The Packard Motor Car Company to give spectators an opportunity to compare the earliest models of Packard 3-ton trucks with the 1919 series, entered a 1919 3-ton Packard truck that is said to have traveled more than 125,000 miles, according to C. A. Bothell, manager of the Motor Truck department. Bothell said this truck was purchased by the Union Brewing Co. in 1909 and was used continuously until 1914 when it was sold to the Brashear Truck Service Co., which has had it in operation in its general hauling business in the city and county since.

On the new Packard is a stake body for general hauling purposes with a cab over the driver's seat. The new model has steel wheels while the old type has wheels of wood.

An interesting exhibit of "inside information" as it is termed by H. C. Badley of the International Mack Corporation, is carried on the chassis of a 3 and ½ ton Mack truck. It shows interior parts used in the construction of Mack trucks such as the transmission and differential gears as well as the motor parts which are fixed in a frame of wood painted white with lettering in black giving a description of each part.

First Night in Capital. According to the schedule the expedition will make its night control Wednesday at Jefferson City, leaving at 8 a. m. Thursday morning for Sedalia, arriving there Thursday night.

Friday morning there will be a parade in the business section of Sedalia. The Kansas City motor truck train is expected to arrive at about the same time.

After the parade in Sedalia the St. Louis expedition will be escorted to the State fair grounds, where the trucks will encircle the arena before being parked where visitors at the fair may view them. Since the first route of the expedition was announced there has been a change made in that the expedition will go to Mexico, Mo., after stopping in Columbia, instead of stopping at Fulton, first announced. From Mexico the itinerary is through North Martinsburg, Wellsville, Montgomery, New Florence, High Hill, Jonesburg, Warrenton and Wright City, continuing on the National Old Trails road through St. Charles, arriving in St. Louis Monday afternoon.

The entries include: International Harvester Co., two International trucks; Southeastern Milling Co., two Garford trucks; Traffic Motor Truck Corporation, five Traffic trucks; Packard Motor Car Co., two Packard trucks; F. C. Meyer Motor Car Co., one Republic truck; Newell Motor Car Co., one Paige truck; De Luxe Automobile Co., one Oldsmobile truck; Martin Motor Truck Co., one Diamond T truck; Scudder Motor Truck Co., one Service truck; Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., one Federal truck; Weber Implement and Auto Co., one Maxwell truck; Aldrich-Stephens Motor Co., one Cadillac chassis with a truck unit attachment; Brisco Motor Sales Co., one Stewart truck; General Motors Truck Co., one G. Des Moines Street Car Men Strike. By the Associated Press. DES MOINES, Mo., Aug. 12.—About 650 motormen and conductors of the Des Moines City Railway Co. went on strike at 2:30 this morning. An arbitration board granted the employees' demands. The strike is the result of failure on the part of the company to grant retroactive pay. The strike was called, according to a business agent of the men, "because the men had become tired of waiting for a settlement to be made."

More Than 1000 Coal Dealers Use Autocars

They find that the sturdiness of the Autocar means long service under hard conditions. It stands up, and continues to deliver economically. The same qualities have made the Autocar standard in 450 different lines of business.

Autocar short wheelbase makes it possible to chute coal where in many places a longer truck necessitates a carry. Short wheelbase also fits the Autocar to the standard scale.

The very fact that more than half of the thousand coal dealers that use Autocars have given repeat orders is the strongest proof of Autocar efficiency.

The Autocar Company is represented by factory branches and dealers from coast to coast. Through them it assures complete aftersale service to every Autocar user.

Care and Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared; could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's
CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrup was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

MISSION FAVORS AIR SECRETARY IN U. S. CABINET

Members Recommend Combination of Civilian, Army and Naval Fliers Under One Big Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Concentration of the air activities of the United States, civilian, naval and military, within the direction of a single governmental agency, with an official holding a place in the President's Cabinet at the head, is recommended by the special American aviation mission, headed by Assistant Secretary of War Crowell, which has been studying the aircraft developments in Europe.

In making public the report yesterday, Secretary Baker disapproved the recommendation for a Department of Aviation, holding that "the mission has, in my judgment, gone too far in suggesting a single centralized air service."

The proposed Department of Aviation, the mission asserted in its report, should be charged with full responsibility for "placing and maintaining our country in the first rank among nations in the development and utilization of aircraft for the national security and in the advancement of civil aerial transportation and communication arts."

Baker Voices Disapproval. In disagreeing with this feature of the report, Baker said: "Arguing and navy aviators are specialists in the art; both the airplanes and the pilots needed are of a different type from those needed in civilian undertakings. A separation of the air service from the army or the navy would require co-ordination of their activities in time war, whereas effectiveness in military operation rests upon the concentration and singleness of authority, command and purpose."

The report of the mission, which is divided into three parts dealing with general organization, commercial development and technical development, is based on studies made in England, France and Italy. The members of the mission included besides Assistant Secretary Crowell, Howard C. Coffin, chairman of the former Aircraft Production Board; Capt. Henry C. Mustin of the navy, Col. Halsey Dunwoody, Assistant Chief of the A. E. F. Air Service; Lieutenant-Colonel James A. Blair Jr., of the General Staff; George H. Houston, president of the Wright-Martin Aeroplane Corporation, and Y. S. S. Bradley, manager of the Manufacturers' Aircraft Association.

The mission, in conducting its investigation abroad, conferred with the air ministries of the three Government ranking army and navy commanders, including Marshal Foch, Winston Churchill and Field Marshal Haig, and the foremost aircraft manufacturers.

Turning to commercial aviation, the mission emphasizes the necessity of the United States conserving the aircraft industry built up during the war.

"America's (aircraft) production industry," the report asserts, "reached large proportions during the war, but since the signing of the armistice it has shrunk to a very small volume. Unless immediate attention is given to its conservation, it will practically disappear and a considerable portion of the great sums expended in its development will have been spent fruitlessly."

held at national expense with signaling and communication systems. Development of a meteorological service to aid fliers. Creation either at Government expense or by private enterprise under Government regulation of training facilities. Encouragement by the Government to the development of the new design and aeronautical technique. Co-operation by the Government with other nations in determining and applying the rules and regulations which will govern the international use of aircraft. Encouragement to the insurance of aircraft and its personnel against all kinds of hazards. Encouragement through the mail and express privileges to the organization of private enterprises for carrying aerial transportation. Conservation of the remaining aircraft production.

Why ½ Karo (Red Label) and ½ Sugar is Better Than All Sugar for Preserving

Many more women would do home-preserving if they could be sure that their jellies wouldn't run to liquid or get "candied."

The way to be sure is to use only half as much sugar as the recipe calls for and fill up the measure with Karo (Red Label). Karo is a wonderful help in preserving—even to the most experienced housewife.

This fine, clear white syrup has a natural affinity for the fruit juices.

It blends the juice with the sugar—brings out the full "fruity" flavor.

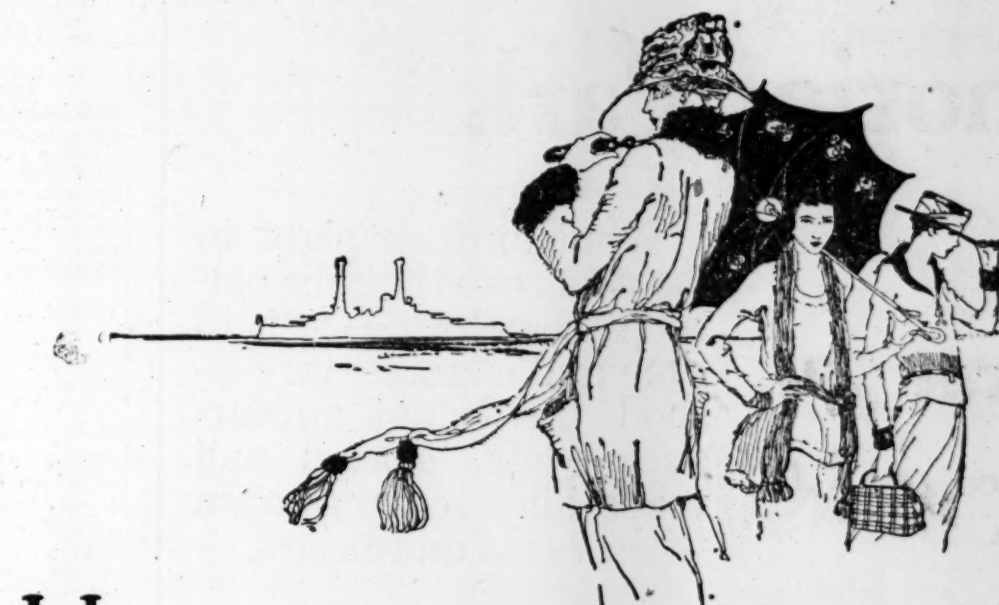

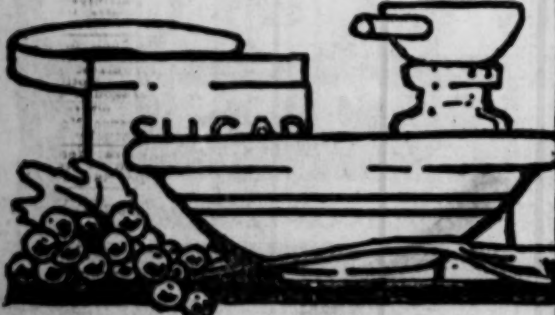

It insures a rich, heavy syrup in canned and preserved fruits—and firm, mellow jams and jellies without the slightest tendency to grow tough or candy in the glass.

Karo assures even the beginner of producing rich, smooth jams, jellies and preserves that any woman may be proud to serve.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

How to wash sweaters—

YOU can wash your sweater yourself—and it won't shrink! Won't lose its shape!

Wash it in rich Lux suds, and it will come out just as soft and fluffy as the day you bought it.

It is twisting woolens and rubbing soap on them that makes them stiff, matted and shrunken. But with Lux there is no rubbing. Only sousing in the rich, pure lather, gently pressing the suds through the soiled parts.

Lux comes in pure delicate flakes. They dissolve instantly in hot water. Nothing but Lux makes such a wonderful lather!

Lux is so pure it won't hurt anything water alone won't injure.

Your grocer, druggist or department store has Lux.—Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

To wash your sweater

Whisk Lux into a rich lather in very hot water—two tablespoonfuls to the gallon. Add cold water to make the suds lukewarm. Swish your sweater about in the suds. Wash quickly, pressing the suds through the sweater, but do not rub. Rinse three times in lukewarm water. Dissolve a little Lux in the last rinsing but do not make a lather. This leaves your sweater softer and more woolly. Never wring sweaters. Squeeze the water out, and spread on a towel to dry in the shade.

There is nothing like Lux for fine woolens

Acid-Stomach Ruins Health of Millions

Besides those painful attacks of indigestion, that awful bloated, lumpy feeling after eating and downright stomach misery that you who have experienced it know so well; besides disgusting belching, food-repeating, sour stomach and distressing heartburn—besides all this, ACID-STOMACH undermines the health and saps the strength of millions.

If you don't get rid of those stomach miseries there is no telling where your stomach troubles will end, for it is a well known scientific fact that many serious ailments have their start in an acid stomach.

Start now—this very day—to get rid of your stomach miseries. Take EATONIC—the wonderful remedy that absorbs the excess acid from the stomach and brings INSTANT relief. You simply have no idea how much better, stronger and brighter you feel at once. It drives out all the gas and bloated, puts an immediate stop to belching and heartburn, ends stomach suffering and makes it cool, sweet, comfortable and strong. There can be no further excuse for you to allow acid-stomach to wreck your health—pile up misery upon misery until you get to the point where you feel down and out and that life has lost all its joys. Remember, just as acid-stomach ruins teeth, so acid-stomach ruins health.

Take EATONIC. It's good, just like a bit of candy and makes the stomach feel fine. You can then eat the things you like and, what is more, every mouthful you eat will count in creating power and energy. You'll feel so much better—have punch and pep—the power and will to do things and get results, and your stomach misery will be gone. Take our advice. Get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist today. It costs so little. If it fails to remove your stomach distress, he will refund your money. That is guaranteed; you are to be satisfied or money refunded.

EUPEPSIA TABLETS

DON'T DIET! Eat anything you crave, providing you take EUPEPSIA TABLETS.

They will assist your stomach to digest a mixture of food that would ordinarily ferment, causing gas, bloating, headache and many other ills, due to undigested food.

One EUPEPSIA TABLET taken before eating starts the flow of gastric juices, stimulates the membranes and aids the stomach in assimilating and disposing of its food.

Go to your druggist, get a 50c box of EUPEPSIA TABLETS, and after taking the contents, if you are not entirely satisfied with the results, Mr. Druggist is authorized to return your money. Sold for 50c by all druggists.

MINERS AT BELLEVILLE MEET TO SPREAD STRIKE

Seek to Overthrow Union Administration and Continue Fight for Increases.

A convention of Illinois coal miners, called by the leaders in the Belleville field, began this forenoon at the Lyric Theater in Belleville. The purpose is to make the strike State-wide and adopt a program for the overthrow of the State administration of the United Mine Workers, headed by Frank Farrington of Springfield, effect a reorganization and continue the fight for increased wages.

When the convention was called to order by Luke Coffey, chairman of the strikers' organization, there were about 30 delegates present, representing the Belleville, Springfield, Peoria and Southern fields. Strikers filled the theater. The first business transacted was the appointment of a committee on rules and order.

Opposition to Farrington and the other State leaders is on account of their insistence that the miners adhere to the war-time agreement, by which they pledged themselves to remain at work, at stipulated wages, until 60 days after peace is officially declared.

Farrington has called a meeting for tonight at Springfield for consultation upon the course to be pursued in dealing with the strikers, who are held to be in rebellion against the State organization and subject to expulsion.

If the fight within the organization continues disruption or division is probable, which would not be displeasing to the operators. Suspicion in the Fifth and Ninth districts, known as the Belleville field, is practically complete. Reports received by Secretary Greenlaw of the Fifth and Ninth Districts Openers' Association are that 76 mines are closed down and between 15,000 and 16,000 miners idle.

DANIELS ON WAY TO HONOLULU

By the Associated Press. ABOARD U. S. S. NEW YORK, at Sea, Aug. 13.—The battleship New York, which brought fame to the American navy as the flagship of Admiral Hugh Rodman with the British grand fleet during the war, began its 2080-mile cruise today from Los Angeles harbor to the Hawaiian Islands. Secretary of the Navy Daniels, with Mrs. Daniels and their two sons, are passengers aboard the New York. The destroyers Chauncey, Dent, Philip and Waters are acting escorts to the flagship.

CLUE TO DANVILLE, ILL., MURDER

Special to the Post-Dispatch. DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 13.—The first evidence pointing to a possible motive in the killing of Walter L. Whisman, hotel manager, and the shooting of George Holtz, Illinois Traction motorman, last Saturday at the Holtz home came today when State's Attorney Lewman learned that Mrs. Grace Whisman, Whisman's widow, had gone to Chicago late in July while her husband was on a three weeks' visit to his old home in Virginia, and had registered at a Chicago hotel under an assumed name. Mrs. Whisman admitted that she had so registered. "I wonder how the dirty cuss learned of that?" she said as she was being taken back to her cell.

Mrs. Martha Holtz, wife of the motorman, still adheres to the burglar story. Holtz will be able to leave the hospital Thursday afternoon, when the coroner's inquest is to be held.

HITS AT AUTO PROFITEERS

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch. LONDON, Aug. 13.—By permitting the importation of 5000 American motor cars, the British Government has given the profiteers the first hard blow in the fight now being waged against high prices. The demand became so insistent for automobiles and the inability of the British to turn out cars in numbers equal to the demand became so glaring that the bars had to be lowered. At the same time automobile manufacturers have been able to charge any price they liked. These manufacturers have tried to change the governmental decision by pressure in Parliament here, but failed. The importers must pay 33 1/3 per cent duty, part of the freight charges and insurance; and the machines probably will be sold for 40 or 50 per cent more than the American market, but even then they will be much cheaper than British makes.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Another Swift Explanation.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In the Post-Dispatch of July 15 an item appears entitled "Visualizing the Packing Business," from which we quote:

"The packing business in late years can be visualized from two items in the 1918 statements of one of the great concerns composing the trust."

We desire to state that Swift & Co. is not a member of any trust or combination. On the contrary, we are in keen competition with other firms in the business. We ask that you do not in future refer to Swift & Co. in this way unless you are prepared to substantiate it.

The profits in the meat business of $18,786,696.26 amount to 2.04 per cent on the sales and correctly state the entire profit that Swift & Co. made from the slaughter of animals and the sale of the meat and by-products. None of the profits which belong to that end of the business appear in the other item of $23,723,098.

The statement which is made in our Year Book, that we made a profit of $1 per head on cattle is a correct one and includes all of the profits on the beef and by-products belonging to cattle.

The meat business, and especially the fresh meat business, is and always has been a business of small profits and quick turnover, and in our opinion it will always continue to be that kind of a business under a competitive system. The enormous idea that some people have of enormous profits made in the meat business is a clear indication that they do not appreciate the nature of the business and the ease and promptness with which anyone can engage in it, should more than an ordinary profit prevail.

That packer profits are reasonable is not only indicated by our own statements, but is also substantiated by the report of the United States Food Administration covering the operation of the five large packers under their supervision and regulation for the year ended Nov. 2, 1918. Their report reads as follows:

Total investment$ 714,187,204
Total sales2,434,113,430
Total profit40,594,935
Profit percentage on sales1.6
Profit percentage on investment5.6

A profit of 1.6 cents per dollar of sales amounts to less than 4 cent per pound of product and has no appreciable effect on prices.

To aid in a correct interpretation of our profit figures and as a matter of fairness, we ask that you not publish this letter. Please send us a marked copy of the issue in which it appears.

Yours respectfully,
SWIFT & CO.

League to Oppose Milk Producers.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

We are going to call the bluff of D. A. Brooks et al. There is being organized a League of St. Louis Milk Producers. Each woman approached has promptly agreed to join, pledging to secure two more, and so the union expands. It is our intention on a certain day, when we are fully organized (including all the city) to top our milk and cream. We are securing the pledge of a few honest producers to supply the milk for infants and invalids. The administration was severely criticized for averting a nationwide strike of the railroads, tying up all traffic of the country. So, in this case, there might be worse things than doing without milk and cream for a while to bring down its cost. Brooks threatens to stop shipment of milk. Where will he ship? Other markets are fully supplied; this course might produce a surplus in these centers, bringing down prices, but in the meantime it may be the housewives in other centers who will rally to our support and for their own good, and refuse also to pay the high prices asked.

CHAIRMAN OF THE LEAGUE.

The League of Nations.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Elhu Root said before he changed his open mind:

"No nation can live unto itself and continue to live. Each nation's growth is a part of the development of the race. There may be leaders and there may be laggards, but no nation can long continue very far in advance of the general progress of mankind, and no nation that is not deemed to extinction can remain very far behind. It is with nations as it is with individual men; intercourse, association, correction of egotism by the influence of others' judgment, broadening of views by the experience and thought of equals, acceptance of the moral standards of a community, the desire for whose good opinion leads a nation to the rules of right conduct. These are conditions of growth in civilization. A people whose minds are not open to the lessons of the world's progress, whose spirits are not stirred by the aspirations and the achievements of humankind struggling for the world over for liberty and justice, must be left behind by civilization, in its steady and beneficent advance." C. J. GRIFFITH.

THE LODGE-MADE HOBGOBLIN LEAGUE.

The league covenant whose scope and effect Mr. Lodge interpreted to the Senate is a league covenant devised and formulated by Mr. Lodge himself. It has small resemblance to the one agreed on at Versailles.

Surely this Lodge-made covenant is not only a totally unworkable but an insidious and fearful instrument. It hamstringing the Monroe Doctrine and provides for us a Government that rests only occasionally on the consent of the governed.

America becomes only a satrapy administered from Geneva. Needing after ratification the help against the Bedouins he is reported to need now, King Hussein of Arabia could force us to send ships of war and a monstrous force of American soldiers to fight for him.

Engrossed copies of new immigration laws would have to have the higher sanction before being filed in the office of the Secretary of State. Advance approval from the center of control established in the Swiss town would be a requisite to upward or downward revisions of our tariff.

But such possibilities are not found in the Versailles text by just as good Americans as Senator Lodge, by statesmen just as able as he, by experts just as learned as he in the history and effect of international agreements.

The favorite between-campaigns diversion of Republican leaders is to piece together out of the simple materials supplied from Versailles a league treaty of their own. Every Republican is his own covenant maker. The curious thing is that the work of each of them has small resemblance to that of the others. The only league Mr. Lodge can visualize after reading the text is all bad.

The seven Republicans whose views Senator Spencer formulated find in it a great deal of good and no forms of expression even which a few reservations cannot make to their liking. Senator Borah finds in Section XI the seeds of national dissolution. Mr. Hughes finds it perfectly innocuous.

The Lodge-made hobgoblin covenant is largely a creation of hateful distortion and partisan prejudice. The country wants nothing like it and fortunately does not have to have anything like it. But the country does want the Versailles-made covenant. Ignoring the divided counsel and visualizing at cross purposes among Republicans, each American must visualize for himself the actual league contemplated by the text.

TELL IT TO HENSELEY.

United States District Attorney Hensley is on the trail of the profiteers and in stalking this game to its lair he asks the public to assist him. There are a good many ways in which we may help. It is a rare individual these days who hasn't felt he was being overcharged. Occasionally some of us, perhaps, have ventured a mild remonstrance, only to meet a supercilious smile that merely added a degree to our temperance.

We should tell our troubles to Hensley. Our grievance may or may not be genuine. He will find out. That is his business—to investigate complaints. If we help him he can help us. Our service must be voluntary, of course, but since we are to be the beneficiaries of any improvement in conditions, self-interest should prompt us to give the co-operation asked.

There isn't much doubt in the popular mind that one of the weightiest reasons for excessive prices is the willingness of the people to pay. As long as that attitude prevails prices are going to stay up. It is our duty to make it known that we are not willing victims, that we strenuously object to extortionate prices, that we pay them only because we have to, and that we are ready to do anything in our power to put an end to profiteering.

Tell it to Hensley.

At a meeting in St. Louis where the attendance was about 6000 Senator Reed saw 8000 people stand up and vote for the repudiation of the league covenant. Whatever may be said about him it must be conceded that Senator Reed is a man of prodigious vision.

COTTON ADVANCES SINCE MAY.

Bill Nye's New Jersey hotel keeper who justified a perfectly exorbitant bill on the ground that he "could use the money," has long done service in suggesting a reason for high charges when all other reason was lacking. His explanation is still the only one that can be cited for many of the price demands of the current period. We may recall that all cotton textiles were dismayingly high on May 1 last, but since then a maximum increase of 30 per cent in the price of hosiery, of 60 per cent in ribbons, of 50 per cent in underwear and shirtings, of 35 per cent in yarns and 20 per cent in canvas has been recorded. The high price of most other commodities are a war legacy. How many have scored any such an advance since May 1?

Those who profit by the cotton prices undoubtedly can find a use for the money. Most of those obliged to pay the prices have so many needs their money doesn't go round.

THE NEW PARKING ORDINANCE.

The first day of the one-hour parking ordinance resulted in 151 arrests, the fine in each case being $2. Those violations were probably due to carelessness in most instances. The sure and speedy cure for such carelessness is just such rigorous enforcement of the regulation as marked the opening day. The trouble with the two-hour ordinance was that it had lapsed into a dead letter.

The present ordinance will doubtless work a serious inconvenience at times. But the day-long occupancy of the streets in the congested district by those who happen to get there first works a greater inconvenience. The greater good for the greater number must be served.

SOME READING FOR REED.

Senator Reed harps on a favorite string in his reported willingness to wage that not three members of the Democratic State Committee have read and thoroughly digested the league covenant, which the committee has all but unanimously endorsed. Be that as it may, the feature which made this meeting a notable occasion, as pointed out by the Post-Dispatch, was the able, clarifying discussions of the charter by several speakers. It is not very much to say that the analyses of the covenant at this committee meeting were more profound and more clarifying than the voluminous utterances of the Senator himself. And they were presented in incomparably finer spirit. The plain truth is that Mr. Reed's discussions of the instrument have been shallow vociferations, with disparaging allusions to the President and a former President, and with efforts at wit that were labored and not in the best of taste.

Our senior Senator's contributions to the League of Nations symposium have never gotten above a soap-box level. He could truly inform himself in this subject, on which he presumes to speak authoritatively, by reading the speeches delivered at this committee meeting.

That Plumb plan is a lemon.

JAPAN IN KOREA.

From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.
KOREA has been a heavy load on the friends of Japan to carry, just as Ireland has been a handicap to those who work for the fullest possible friendship between Great Britain and the United States. Japan (and the rest of the far East) has some very good friends on the commission of the federal council of churches upon relations with the Orient, and they now issue a statement plainly pointing out the shocking abuses which have been perpetrated, but also showing that the Japanese Government is taking active measures to end them. In this respect there is a close parallel to the pokroks in Poland, though Premier Hara is somewhat franker than Premier Paderewski in recognizing that conditions exist which need reform. In some ways Japan has done very well in Korea, and has taken such part in the progress made that a handsome large annual report on "Reforms in Korea" has been published in the English language for the edification of the western world. But there has been in the Japanese system too much of the Prussian insistence upon efficiency even at the expense of good will, and when disaffection led to open revolt the system did not stand the test. That Japan is anxious for a genuine reform need not be questioned; Prussian methods since 1914 have had much undesirable publicity.

GLASGOW'S CAR LINE A SUCCESS.

From the Glasgow (Scotland) Herald.
NO municipal enterprise inaugurated by Glasgow corporations has attained a wider celebrity than the tramway undertaking which reached its semi-jubilee July 1. Its constant development and great success have attracted the attention and elicited the admiration not only of the municipalities of the United Kingdom, but of those abroad and especially in America, where its reputation has been as familiar as at home.

When the corporation formerly entered into possession of the tramway system, July 1, 1894, and began to work it on behalf of the city, it was compelled to start with fresh horses, cars and buildings, and a new staff and equipment, nothing having been taken over from the retiring company, since no agreement could be arrived at with regard to price. At that time the system comprised 44 miles of route measured as single track. The average track mileage (single) open in the year recently closed was 1964. In the opening year the passengers numbered 57,104,647, and the receipts were $1,105,605. In the year just closed the passengers numbered 464,246,677, and the traffic receipts amounted to $7,637,435.

MR. ANTWINE'S OPINION.

"It looks as if present political division in this country were about to lose their usefulness," Mr. Antwine said.

"Both the Democrats and Republicans seem to be pretty badly demoralized as party forces. They lack cohesion among their constituent parties, and that is always the end of a party. The Democratic party is in the lesser peril for not having stood for anything very definitely. It has been successful more in negation than in standing for anything of its own. The Republican party is in the greater peril. It is specifically the party of property. Property, wealth, has its own cohesion among its constituent parties, and that is always the end of a party. Ireland Rival for Says Dunne

British Government Exterminate

F. Dunne, former Governor of Irish-American Commission to tell of the resumption of negotiations after the return from Ireland.

DUNNE. has given the sorriest exhibit. For seven and one-half centuries, the kind of law and enforcement some of the theory of the legislation in Ireland has been based upon the right to be consulted or considered of policies which were to be applied in a manufacturing and a common such rivalry, manufacturing and, that commerce between Ireland and Britain, must be discouraged, and that if the Celtic race, it should be exterminated by soldiers shoot down the people.

The British press approves the policy as necessary to the enforcement of British law. When a man is killed, it is heralded as a barbarian. The prison is a necessity for the enforcement of the law of government as the bayonet rifle.

Protest Is Silenced.

Some men, women and children will not make violent resistance to this established disorder. They will write and speak about these things. These men and women are children cannot be openly passed for so thinking, writing and speaking; so they are arrested with warrant, imprisoned in Irish or deported to England, thus silencing their tongues and pens. Debra, Collins, Bruagh, O'Kelly and a score of other duly tried members of Parliament have in this incarceration. Physical resistance to these tyrannical methods is treated with the rifle or the bayonet or policeman's club, and protest tongue or pen is silenced in the prison.

The advocate openly the establishment of an Irish republic under British law, as administered in Ireland, is a crime. Yet, nearly 75 per cent of the people have voted for a republic and holdily advocate it by tongue and pen. Their leaders are arrested, but so strong is the sentiment of the people both in and out of the jails, that they manage to escape and seek the hospitality and protection of their fellow men, which is never denied them.

Can't Lock Up a Nation.

The obscure rank and file of the people are not jailed because it is impossible to confine over 30,000 people. Edmund Burke declared that you "cannot indict a nation." Neither can you physically lock up a nation behind stone walls. This state of affairs cannot long endure. It can only be solved by wholesale imprisonment, wholesale massacre or recognizing the immortal truth enunciated by Jefferson that the signers of the American Declaration of Independence, advocated so clearly and forcibly by President Wilson and conceded by Lloyd George in his speeches during the great world war, that all governments can only derive "their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Neither wholesale imprisonment of a nation or wholesale massacre will be tolerated by the enlightened opinion of mankind in the twentieth century. The only alternative left for the solution of the Irish problem is to concede to the high-spirited and intelligent people of Ireland the right of government with the consent of the governed, a right now needed to all the white races of the earth except to the Irish people, and a right which the tendencies of the times indicate must be soon conceded to all races and all colors.

BRITAIN ISSUES 'WHITE PAPER'

ON PAPAL PEACE PROPOSAL

State That Michaelis Accepted Some Clauses, But Remained Silent Regarding Belgium.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A "White Paper" issued by the Government deals with the papal peace proposal to the belligerents in August, 1917. The Pope, in his note, said that before everything, the fundamental point must be that the moral force of right should be substituted for the material force of arms, entailing a general agreement for the simultaneous reduction of armaments and the institution of the principle of arbitration.

The Pontiff stipulated for complete evacuation of Belgium and French territory, with the complete political, military and economic independence of Belgium, restitution of the German colonies and complete freedom of the seas.

Foreign Minister Balfour says the "White Paper," in acknowledging the Pope's note, intimates that until the central empires and their allies stated officially how far they were willing to go in the matter of reparations and restoration and announced their war aims and offered effective guarantees against a repetition of war, the British Government considered it most unlikely any progress toward peace could be made. The French view corresponded with those expressed by Balfour.

Dr. George Michaelis, replying for Germany, agreed to the idea of enforced arbitration, the limitation of armaments and freedom of the seas, but said nothing on the subject of evacuation of Belgium and France or Belgian independence.

WOMEN'S PAGE

Dorothy Dix's Talks. The Nagger and the Nagged.

FEW days ago a Western woman shot and killed her husband, and as he was dying, he gasped out with his last breath:

"I guess I pushed her too far. I nagged her too much. Women can't stand as much nagging as men can." That will be the wife's defense. That she was nagged beyond the limit of human endurance, and it's dollars to doughnuts that the jury will bring in a verdict of justifiable homicide.

We have all suffered from the nagger, and we know from personal experience that there is no other thing on earth that raises a murderous impulse in even the most patient of us. The nagger is a perpetual grouch.

When you think of a man growling over his breakfast and finding fault with the coffee, and making sarcastic remarks about the breakfast every morning for forty years, you can but wonder how many times his wife has toyed with the idea of favoring his eggs some day with rough on rats, and being forever relieved of his complaints.

When you contemplate the spectacle of a man coming home day after day, through a weary eternity of matrimony, to a wife who frets at him because he doesn't make more money, and forgets to wipe his feet on the doormat, and because he smokes, and musses up the sofa cushion, and who reminds him that she's told him not to do these things a million times, you know why he gets so cross and finally becomes a nagger to his or her deserts. The marvel is that any of them escape. It shows that the stuff of which martyrs are made is not extinct.

OR, in all good truth, there is nothing else so hard to endure as perpetual fault-finding. It gets on our nerves and becomes as endurable as the continual falling of a single drop of water on the victim's head which was the choicest torture of the inquisition, and which no one could stand and maintain his reason.

An out-and-out sinner we can forgive and love in spite of his or her wrongdoing. We can fight, and shake hands, and still be friends. But we can have nothing but a dull and impatient loathing and resentment against the individual who can never let bygones be bygones, and who eternally reminds us of the mistakes we once made, who is continually throwing our faults in our faces, and who forever holds up our weaknesses before our eyes. That is the unforgivable.

The Western man's assertion that women cannot stand as much nagging as men is an interesting sidelight on the subject, however. Doubtless, he is right, and it is to be hoped that his words will be taken to heart by men afflicted with the nagging habit.

One of the reasons why women show less stamina and staying power under nagging than men do is because when a man is a nagger, he is a much more strenuous and forceful and efficient nagger than any woman ever is. As a man nagger, he is a pocketbook for his wife, and she is a pocketbook for him. The man who nags his wife is the economically dependent wife never seen.

THE man who grows over his food, who berates his wife for the size of the bills and wastes to know if she thinks he is made of money, who criticizes the way she raises the children and makes fun of her clothes, and before whom she is a headliner among naggers, and it is no wonder that his wife goes to pieces with nervous prostration.

Another reason that women stand nagging with less fortitude than men do is because women can escape from the nagger, whereas a woman is chained to her tormentor. She hasn't any convenient business that takes her off to different cities when she gets to the place where she has to have a divorce or a separation. Men, likewise, have the advantage of having millions of other interests that take their minds off their worries at home, whereas a woman's work gives her all too much time to think, and to brood over the way her husband picks upon her.

It must be said in all fairness, however, that women naggers are far more common than men naggers. It is women who have a gift for petty tyranny, and who can make your life miserable for you unless you eat the same sort of food they do, and go to the same church, and give your own habits to suit the nagger. It is women who cannot distinguish between little things and big, and who will drive a good husband away from home by nagging him about leaving his shoes on the floor, and dropping cigar ashes on the rug until he flies to a club of peace.

And the pitiful part of it all is that the woman nagger generally gets through over-love and over-zeal for her family. But none the less they hate her for it.

There is no cure for nagging because no one who nags ever admits that he is wrong. He is always right. He heretofore, the only way a man or woman who was unlucky enough to marry a nagger ever got rid of the nagging was through death or divorce. Now the six shooter has been introduced as a solution of the problem. Let us trust that it will prove an awful warning to those addicted to wife and husband baiting.

The Sandman Story for Tonight.

By MRS. F. A. WALKER.

Tiger and the Trap.

MRS. TABBY had a great deal of trouble with her kitten named Tiger. The other kittens were just like others she had cared for, but Tiger gave his mother a great deal of trouble.

There was never a door left open that Tiger did not find his way into. He was on the other side, or a cover off a kettle or a box that his head was not poked into it.

One day he went into the pantry and found a can of milk with the cover off and he climbed Tiger to look in and over it went, and if food had not been near he would have drowned.

But this did not cure him of his bad habit, but one day he got into trouble that cured him of poking his nose into things, besides frightening Tiger nearly to death.

He was going through the barn when saw a huge rat trap with two rats in it.

"Oh, my, I wonder how they got in," thought inquisitive Tiger, poking about the wires. "I wish I could catch one and take it to mother."

The rats were not the least afraid of Tiger. He was not large enough to scare them, but they jumped about and squeaked until Tiger was very much excited.

First on one side and then on the other he poked the wires of the trap with his nose, and then he went to the end, where the rats had gone in, and before he knew what had happened there he was inside and could not get out.

What would have become of poor little Tiger Kitten there is no way of telling if Tower Dog had not happened in just then and jumped at the trap trying to get at the rats.

Over went the trap, the rats squealing and Tiger meowing and Tower barking and in came the master to see what was going on.

Bees' Stingers Make Profitable Crop

RAISING bees for the stings pays an Eastern woman better than keeping them for the honey which they would produce. From these stings is secured the purest formic acid obtainable, and the customers are the manufacturing druggists of the country.

During the past 24 years this woman has supplied one firm with 25,000 stings annually; other concerns take from 500 to 5000 each year, making a yearly trade of 50,000 stings. To produce this number, but two colonies of bees are necessary, while it would require 500 colonies to make an amount of honey equal in value to the stings.

The method of taking the sting from a bee is simple. The bees are first gathered in a specially arranged box, by shaking a comb on which they are working, over the mouth of the box. Next, in a room with all the shades but one drawn, the box is opened. As the bees come out of the box they are attracted to the lighted window, and cluster there on the glass.

We sat sipping our cups, and nibbling our cake as we discussed a matter in which we were both interested. Less than a half minute before that man died, he was as well as he had ever been. The scene is perfectly before my eyes. He held his cup and saucer in one hand, his spoon in the other—when I saw his eyes open queerly, his face change to a clayey gray, and his fingers relaxed, letting his cup fall to the floor.

"I set down my cup quickly and sprang toward him, but in an instant it was all over." A hush fell on the group as he remembered the details, so exactly as the Professor had related them.

"And the young lady," said Crawford, at last, rousing himself from thought, "did she too drink tea?" "No," said Eve Carnforth, musically. "I remember I was just finishing Vernie's tea. She liked it sweet, and I was adding a lump of sugar when the commotion began."

"I noticed Miss Reid first, I think," offered Tracy. "At least, I happened to look toward her when Mr. Bruce fell forward in his chair. She made a slight sound, as of horror, and when I glanced her way, she looked so stunned I thought she was going to collapse, so I stepped across toward her. As I did so, she looked suddenly very strange, and I feared she was ill—aside from her shock at all—then she'd go right on. Oh I kin read character," and Thorpe plumed himself so evidently on his mental powers that Stebbins snorted outright.

"You're a hummer, you are! I s'pose you're clairvoyant yourself! Well, let me advise you to keep your trap shut about Miss—that lady you referred to. This is my house, and these are my tenants, and I won't stand any talk from you about 'em."

"That's right, Thorpe," admonished his wife. "Mr. Stebbins, he's right. An' he's right about the shock, too. I kin tell you that. That the spooks warned that little Reid girl she'd die at 4 o'clock, and she did, just at four! Can you beat it? Spooks! Why, of course it was spooks! What else?"

"Yes, and the message was that two of 'em'd die, and two of 'em did," admonished Stebbins. "How could any mortal human being bring that about? I ask you?"

"Land! I don't know! I told you I didn't. But," and Thorpe wagged his head positively, "it wasn't spooks!"

The same questions were being discussed in the hall by the ones more intimately interested. Doctor Wayburn had arrived, and he and Crawford were shut in the drawing room endeavoring to wrest from the unknown, the secret of Clifford Bruce's death.

The little group, still gathered in the hall, were talking earnestly of the immediate future. "It's so pathetic," Norma was saying, "that there are so few to mourn for poor little Vernie. That child had actually no relatives but her uncle and Mr. Bruce."

"It was spooks," declared Hester, with an air of settling the matter. "I've smelled 'em of late. That smell of bitter almonds is been in the air a heap, and I ain't had none for flavoring or anything. Land, I'd never flavor a cake with that! I put vanilla even in my angel food!"

"I've smelled it too," spoke up Nanning, a helper of the other woman's, "when I've been a-dustin' round in that there haunted room I've smelled it—not strong, you know, but just a faint whiff, now'd then. I kin tell 's fast's I could, I kin tell you!"

"Nope, you're all wrong," insisted old Thorpe. "Tain't spooks, it's murder, that's what it is."

"Who done it, then?" demanded old Thorpe. "That I dunno. But I have my own idea."

He smiled. "Right here in the United States," he said, "at this minute there are many thousands of babies keeping well and strong on Nestlé's. All over the world it's the same way—and that will give you some idea of how many babies have kept well on Nestlé's Food during the past fifty years."

And yet it wasn't all those millions of babies that convinced me. It was the pink cheeks of my own baby.

Nestlé's is made out of pure milk, to which has been added just the right amount of cereal and of pure sugar. This is made into a fluffy powder, which makes the curds of the milk easy to digest. You just add cold water, boil, and your baby has the food nearest to mother's milk—free from the germs of raw cow's milk—safe, clean—almost sure to bring him pink cheeks and a sturdy, dimpled little body.

I found that the Nestlé Company likes to save babies and keep them well. They sent me free enough Nestlé's for twelve feedings and a very interesting and valuable Mother's Book about how to take care of babies. All you have to do is to fill out the coupon below.

Browns Maul Boston Hurlers, Closing Tour With Victory

Burkmen Start for Home After Clubbing Their Way to 10-3 Conquest of Champions—Shocker Hurls Great Game and His Mates Give Him Perfect Support.

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—Hitting the same fast pace that has marked their work during the whole series here, the St. Louis Browns closed their visit with the champion Red Sox yesterday by turning in their snappiest battle of the lot. Both teams departed from the Hub last night for new foes and new pastures, but the Browns had the final game tucked away in their bat bag, which bulged with 10 fine runs, while the scant three tallies of the Sox rattled in the bottom.

The Browns stopped the Sox yesterday by producing distinctly superior baseball. There were times when it looked as if the pride of Hubdom were going to be played "off their feet."

Not a mislay crept into the fielding column of the Missouri victors, a story that is not entirely a fiction. Figures. In the battle front, in the war of wits, Vito, Hooper and Ruth were scooped up with praiseworthy skill, a veritable stone-wall defense. On the other hand, the Sox were guilty of only a single mislay.

Although the Browns held the Red Sox off at arm's length over the entire distance after the second inning, the game was an excellent one, powerful stick work giving the fielders plenty to do and keeping the several thousand fans on edge.

The stocky Urban Shocker never looked any better against the Red Sox than he did today. He showed a gameness such as few pitchers can boast by pitching to Babe Ruth every time he came to bat, whether there were men on base or not.

The Browns got away with two runs in the first. Geedon doubled to the left fence. Jacobson walked. Siler whipped a single to right, scoring Geedon. Jacobson and Siler taking third and second on the throw-in. Jacobson scored. Williams fly to Ruth. The Sox got a run in the opener.

In the third St. Louis broke loose. Jacobson doubled. Siler was hit. Williams filed out to Ruth. Tobin singled, filling the bases. Gerber bunted, scoring Jacobson. Siler threw a single to right, scoring Siler. The Sox scored their second run in the fourth inning and their third and final count in the seventh. Thirteen hits was the Browns' total for the afternoon and the most of them were smashes of the hardest kind.

George Siler added to his laurels and gave his batting average another boost. Two singles and a double in four times up was his collection. He was hit twice, the first time by Jones, when the ball struck him on the head and the second time on the neck by Schang when the latter tried to cut down George's steal.

The Browns split the series with the Red Sox. This equals the record of the Tigers when they were here.

Johanne Tobin was back in the lineup for the Browns and played a pretty game in the left garden.

WRAV'S COLUMN

Coal Oil Johnny in Baseball.

W HATEVER may be the fate of the opera bouffe war in the American League over Ban Johnson's authority and Jake Ruppert's sportsmanship, which, in the primitive speech of Phil Ball, "smells to heaven," somebody will have to put a heavy foot on the "coal oil Johnny" of the game.

The wretches who shoot good thousands after bad, in a vain effort to make up for mistakes, talent try to surround all the loose talent that can be bought or traded, after mid-season has passed, probably can not see their future as well as those on the outside a-look-in.

We will inspect, in this connection, Jacob Ruppert and Col. Tillinghast Huston, joint owners of the New York Yankees. Their system has been to open the treasury, in default of good baseball judgment and trust to the power of money.

One deal with St. Louis will show where it goes. The Yankees gave the Browns Shocker, Geedon, Nunnaker, Malsel and $15,000 for Del Pratt. Shocker alone has proved to be worth twice to the Browns what Pratt's value has been to New York.

Geedon also is a regular with the St. Louis club; for Nunnaker the Browns got a fine catcher, Billings; cash was obtained for Malsel. The aggregate value today of what the Browns gained from the deal would be about $55,000. It's a high price for Pratt.

In the recent bargaining for Carl Mays, this bone of contention brought $55,000—which sounds like the Queen of Bavaria relating a pipe dream to Sultan Haroun al Raschid.

Is there any wonder that, with such extravagance, the sword is hanging over the neck of baseball.

Good Will Come of It.

UNDOUBTEDLY good will come of the wrangle in that both leagues will enact rigid laws prohibiting the trading or selling of players between contending clubs in either race after the half-way point in the season has been reached.

"Pennant teams" are mere jests. By the tactics of Frazee and Ruppert league struggles become mere player-grabbing matches—a race to see whose bankroll will stand the greatest strain.

As sport there is small doubt that Mr. Ball hit the nail squarely on the head when he suggested that 1919 baseball franchises smell to heaven.

Messrs. Frazee and Ruppert probably mean well enough, but they appear to be badly advised, in bringing theatrical tactics into a sportsman's proposition.

Australian Tennis Team Nears Final for Doubles Title

Patterson and Brookes Again Show Their Class by Defeating American Stars.

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—That the Australian tennis team consisting of Gerald Patterson and Norman E. Brookes will reach the final round of the national doubles tournament on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club here was the general opinion of tennis followers here today.

Yesterday the Australians again defeated R. Norris Williams and Watson Washburn, reaching the semi-final round. Today they will oppose the veteran Fred Alexander, a former Internationalist, and S. Howard Voshell, whose play this year has been better than at any time in his career.

The other semi-final set for today will be Maurice McLoughlin and T. R. Bundy vs. W. M. Johnston and Clarence Griffin, both teams former doubles champions of the United States. Youth and greater practice are expected to return Johnston and Griffin winners, giving them the right to face the winners of the other semi-final, presumably the Australian pair.

The Brookes-Patterson and McLoughlin-Bundy combinations won their matches here yesterday in straight sets, while Alexander and Voshell had to go the full route of five sets, and Griffin and Johnston trouble to down Conrad E. Doyle and Fred Harris, Middle Atlantic sectional winners, at 6-3, 6-3 and 6-2.

Alexander and Voshell developed a couple of streaks of wildness which in this section. They were evidently moved up on a default, Brookes and Patterson moved up by defeating Williams and Washburn, Eastern champions, at 6-2, 6-3 and 6-8.

McLoughlin and Bundy had less trouble to down Conrad E. Doyle and Fred Harris, Middle Atlantic sectional winners, at 6-3, 6-3 and 6-2. Alexander and Voshell developed a couple of streaks of wildness which in this section. SIX CHAMPIONS AND 4 ST. LOUIS STARS ENTER NATIONAL GOLF EVENT

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Six national champions, past and present, have entered for the United States Golf Association amateur championship tournament, scheduled to begin on Saturday over the links of the Oakmont Country Club near Pittsburgh.

The names of these players on the list given out at U. S. A. headquarters in this city late yesterday afternoon are Charles Evans Jr., the title-holder; Francis Ouimet, Jerome Travers, Robert A. Gardner, F. M. Byers and W. C. Fownes Jr.

All told, there are 132 entries. It had been expected that the total would run higher, and it is possible that belated entries will increase the present figures somewhat. Even so, there is probably more class in the present array than has been seen in years.

The last name to be received yesterday was that of Harry G. Legg, recent winner of the Western Golf Association title at St. Louis. From the Southwest are James S. Manion, R. F. Hockenkamp, Ed A. Limberg and Walter Kossman, all of Forest Park, St. Louis.

Players will take part in a preliminary qualifying round of 18 holes on Saturday and the best 64 will earn the right to continue in the main qualifying round of 36 holes on Monday.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

MY WEALTHY NEIGHBORS.

When, nose to the grindstone I must sit Engaged upon my daily labors
I cannot help but sigh a bit,
In envy of my wealthy neighbors.
They live up yonder by the hill
Until October—never later,
For when the autumn breeze blows chill
They're off to follow the Equator.

They never have a thing to do
But gad about with lolly leisure,
The whole delightful summer through,
Their life is just one round of pleasure.
I see them often in the lane
That winds along the vale below us
And want to speak—but I refrain,
For they don't seem to care to know us.

They'd not receive me should I call,
Their manners are extremely airy,
And this I can't explain at all.
For they're so full of life and merry,
All day I watch them hurry by,
Among the fields and trees and flowers,
And when the sunset paints the sky
They'll often sit and sing for hours.

I envy them their happy lot,
I'm sometimes filled with base resentment
That these exclusive folks have got
So much that makes for sweet contentment.
But when a tomat happens by
And home the frightened father hurries,
No longer do I sit and sigh,
For even robins have their worries!
